THOUSANDS KILLED IN BATTLE ON THE STREETS OF MOSCOW

MOSCOW Dec 23—The most serious outbreak which has as yet transpired in this troubled city is now in progress and thousands of insurrectionists and soldiers are being slain. The troops still loyal to the czar and armed with machine guns are fighting desperately from barricaded houses. The insurgents similarly equipped are resisting the soldiers. Searchlights point luminous fingers up and down the streets and blood flows in the gutters. It is believed that instead of growing better the situation … to grow worse

BLOODY CONFLICT IS NOW IN PROGRESS

Desperate Fighting Now Going on Between Loyal Troops of the Czar With Machine Guns and Insurrectionists Who Are Encamped in Buildings

MOSCOW Dec 23—Two bombs were thrown at the prefecture of police this morning, partially destroying that building. Two policemen were killed and many soldiers wounded.

Serious fighting is now proceeding between an armed crowd and a force of dragoons. One hundred and two revolutionaries were arrested today at … school. Resistance was offered and five persons were killed and twenty wounded. Two officers were killed. The authorities seized eighteen rifles, fifteen revolvers and thirteen bombs.

Midnight—The situation is growing worse hourly. Insurgents hold several quarters of the city and fighting continues desperately.

Two big stores have been pillaged and weapons distributed among men who have erected barricades along the Sadovaia which encircles the city.

From the heights colored signal rockets are showing instructions to rebel commanders. Searchlights on … illuminate the streets where the fighting is proceeding. The roar of cannon continues. Machine guns are being employed to clear the Sadovaia. It is impossible to estimate the number of dead and wounded.

ST PETERSBURG Dec 23—News of the terrible bloodshed at Moscow has created a tremendous sensation here and renders the situation much graver. It furnishes the necessary stimulus to fire the waning passions of the proletariat.

They claim that their own reports show conclusively that the troops were deliberately ordered to fire on peaceful demonstrations in order to provoke a general conflict and that the only recourse left is to fight back in self defense.

The Waiters Union of St Petersburg struck yesterday and practically closed all restaurants and hotels.

The Store of the People

YES that's its true name— The Store of the People. It has proven its ability and shown its willingness to meet the varied wants of the people at any and all times. The people of Reno and vicinity should feel proud of it—for it is their store truly. It was started to meet a recognized demand from them and its wonderful success has been due entirely to their assistance and encouragement, patronage—call it what you will. The people have made our tremendous growth a possibility. They have been with us of us for us. Our pact in this establishment's success has been based on very simple lines—to offer the public the best merchandise procurable at the lowest possible prices and to sell them in such a way as to make shopping convenient and pleasant.

This has been the most successful holiday season in our business history—a brilliant ending to a year of wide expansion in every one of our Fifteen Departments. Our sales in many instances were double over those of the previous year. This all goes to show the unlimited confidence the public places in the Big Store and the high standard of merchandise and exceptional values with which it merits that confidence.

Tuesday we start a series of reduction sales which will astonish even the most economical of shoppers. These are only the beginning of many stupendous events which will mark the commencement of the coming year. They will be announced in detail later on.

HOLIDAY TIME AROUND WORLD

How the People Who Are in the Public Eye Will Celebrate Christmas

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—Christmas is always a happy time in the family of President Roosevelt, as it is in every happy family where there are many children and the means for a comfortable subsistence are not lacking. This year the engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Congressman Nicholas Longworth, coming just before the holidays has added another note of joy to the festive harmony of Christmas happiness. For weeks the preparations for Christmas have been going on at the White House and although there will be no tree, the children having outgrown the tree period, it is safe to say there will be no happier family in the land than that of the president, when the great moment of distributing the gifts of love arrives. Both the president and Mrs. Roosevelt are devoted to their family and never happier than at Christmas time when they can fairly overwhelm their dear children with gifts. Mrs. Roosevelt is a thoroughly sensible and conservative woman and makes a careful selection of the presents she bestows. There is some handsome piece of her own handiwork for each of the children, particularly the girls and in the kindness of her heart Mrs. Roosevelt never fails to remember every one of the servants and employes of the household with some appropriate and handsome gift, which invariably bears the stamp of her individuality.

There is no doubt that the president's family and the members of his household will be well taken care of this Christmas and judging from the large number of presents which have been pouring in to the White Horse for weeks and from the fact that the library of the White House is almost bulging with the gifts stored therein, this will be the merriest Yuletide ever known at the White House. Both the President and Mrs. Roosevelt have sent out a large number of presents to friends and acquaintances in all parts of the country. Barrels of candy and many boxes of gifts have been sent to Oyster Bay to be distributed among the schoolchildren there, as in former years.

The wives of the cabinet members will follow the precedent established two years ago and will send a handsome and valuable present to Mrs. Roosevelt. The members of the cabinet themselves will send individual presents to the president. The greatest secrecy has been observed regarding the nature of these gifts.

At the home of Vice President Fairbanks Christmas will be celebrated by a family party, which will include Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fairbanks of Chicago and their infant daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Timmons. Practically all cabinet officers will spend their Christmas holidays in this city, giving family parties.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—King Edward VIII, Queen Alexandra and their children and grandchildren will spend Christmas at Sandringham, as in former years, and the celebration of Yuletide will be in accordance with the traditions of Old England and typical of the fine old palace. The program for the celebration will be simple, but impressive and the distribution of presents will be unusually liberal. The providing of presents is not a small matter at the British court. The king and the queen not only give presents to the members of their immediate family and their numerous royal household, the officials and employes of the various palaces and country seats and to hundreds of other persons in some way connected with the royal establishment.

There are alone about three hundred persons connected with the Sandringham establishment and every one of them will be remembered. Each cottager, laborer and other workman at Sandringham receives his six pounds of beef for the christmas dinner and other good things. The celebration in the royal family will not be until Monday. After the distribution of presents in the morning the king and queen as well as all the other members of the house party will attend Christmas service in St. Mary Magdalene church. After service lunch will be served and after lunch the royal stables and kennels will be visited. In the afternoon the members of the family will devote themselves to the time-honored pastime of bowling. The Christmas dinner will be eaten in the handsome dining hall at Sandringham and the boarshead with the apple and the peacock will adorn the festive board after the time-honored custom.

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—Probably no European court is giving Christmas presents on so extended a scale as the court of Emperor William. Everyone gives presents to everyone else and the task of selecting the most appropriate gifts is not an easy one. For weeks the emperor as well as the empress and their grown up children have haunted the shops where Christmas presents are sold and many a dealer has been pleasantly surprised by large and liberal orders for members of the imperial family. As usual the emperor will distribute a large number of his portraits, cigar and cigarette cases, matchboxes and other trifles.

C. W. Holman, the sign writer left last night for San Francisco to spend the holidays with friends. He does not expect to remain away longer than next Wednesday, after that time he may be found at his place of business at the rear of the Nevada Bank.

RIVERSIDE TO BE COMPLETED

Building of North Wing of Popular Hostelry Assured by Organization of Company

A company to be known as the Riverside hotel company has been formed and articles of incorporation have been filed, placing the capital stock at $250,000. Harry Gosse the present owner, Walter Wright and Mrs. A. M. Warren are named as members. It is the intention of the new company to carry out the construction of the north wing of the hotel according to the original plan and thus doubling the present size of the structuer. If the plans are carried out work will begin in the spring and should be completed by summer. Negotiations have been under way for some time working toward incorporating a company but hitches have occured and it was not until yesterday that definate action was taken. Now however the completion of the building is practically assured.

TRAFFIC HEAVIER THAN EVER BEFORE

Owing to the heavy travel between this place and California points, the railroad company has been forced to add a couple of sleepers to the local train. As most of the people are going to California to spend the holidays, and expect to return at the end of two weeks, the company believes that it will be necessary to keep on an extra crew until that time. Traffic at present is greater than it has ever been before, a point which may be taken to indicate the growing prosperity of Reno.

STORE WILL REMAIN OPEN UNTIL NOON

The stores of the J. R. Bradley company will remain open today until noon and for the convenience of customers, delivery wagons will be kept running during that time. This is done in order that the store may remain closed the entire day tomorrow.

READ WILL NOT CONTEST

Dispute of O'Connor Brothers Will be Decided in District Court January 3

No compromise in the matter of appointing an administrator for the estate of Daniel O'Connor has yet been reached. The case came up in the District Court yesterday forenoon and on motion of the attorneys for J. H. O'Connor the petitions of John T. Read and B. H. O'Connor for letters of administration were continued for hearing until January 3d at 10 o'clock. John T. Read, it is understood, has withdrawn his petition since learning that relatives were seeking to be appointed administrator.

Yesterday was law and order day in the District Court and in addition to the action taken on the O'Connor estate the following matters were disposed of:

In the matter of the estate of John Jones, the court ordered on motion of the attorney for the defendant that all persons interested in estate be present in person on January 27, 1906 at 10 o'clock. A motion asking that all claims allowed by the court b paid by the administrator was allowed by the court.

In the matter of the estate of Patrick McDonald, on motion of the attorney for the petitioner for letters of administration, the matter was continued to Saturday, December 30th.

In the matter of the estate of George Jorgensen, a petition from George Christenson was received asking for letters of administration. It was granted by the court.

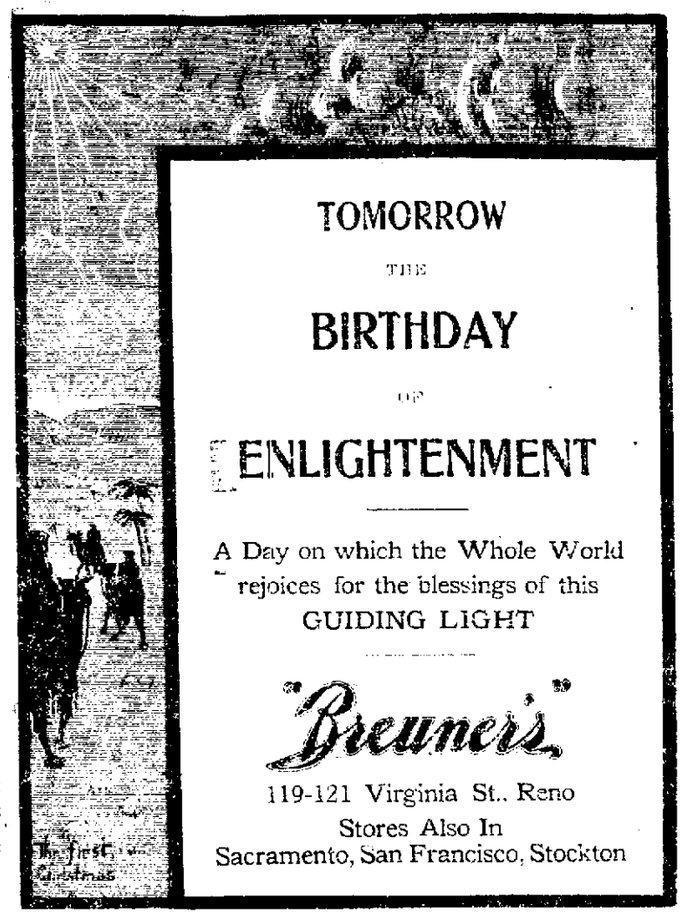

In the matter of the estate of Victor F. Lamotted, a motion made by the attorney for the administrator stating that the estate is valued at less than $300, therefore that administration be summary, was allowed.

The petition of Amelia Williams praying for discharge from the office of administratrix in the estate of J. B. Williams, was granted. On request of P. C. Updike the court ordered that a part of the estate of Margaret Horton be sold to pay expenses of administration.

What will you have, gentleman? An Olympia Oyster Cocktail, of course, is the usual reply. d21tf

SPARKS OFFICE TO BE THIRD CLASS

International Money Order Department Will Be Established at First of Year

Beginning with the first of the year the postoffice in this city will be changed from a fourth class to a third class office. In addition an international money order office will be established enabling the residents of Sparks to purchase money orders payable at any office in the world.

The announcement that a third class office will be established was received yesterday from the postmaster general at Washington. During the year just closing the business [illegible] by the postoffice has increased very much the amount turned into the government far exceeding the fourth class limit of $1000 per year.

The increase is due largely to the transfer of the office from the western end of the city to its present location. When the office was at its former location an average of about half the letters from this city were sent or taken to Reno and mailed in the Reno postoffice. Now [illegible] is different owing to the convenient location of the office.

BANNER DAY OF A BANNER WEEK

Manager Fraley Says the Season Closing Is the Best In the History of His Store

Tired but happy, Manager Fraley sat in his handsome new store last night and remarked:

"The banner day of the best week of business since I have been in Reno. The Christmas time is the gauge of prosperity; when money is plentiful the people spend it freely and generously for gifts to make others happy. I should say that Reno must have had a profitable year, for the volume of my business is greatly in excess of what it was last year at this time.

"Of course the new quarters which we now occupy permit us to handle crowds which could not pack into the smaller store we just left. Our stock held up remarkably well in spite of the inroads into it. At the beginning of the season I felt a confidence that this year was going to be a hummer and so I ordered heavily. My confidence was not misplaced. If I had not purchased heavily I should have been sending people away by the hundreds.

"A peculiarity of the season has been in the diversified stock which has been purchased. Everything from seal skins costing hundreds of dollars, to the more humble but tasty and well made garments for those not so well provided with money, has been sold and in almost equal proportions.

"It is a matter of great satisfaction to me that we were able to take care of our trade so well. An extra force of messenger boys has been busy from early till late tonight making deliveries of goods. These miniature Santa Claus chaps have certainly put in a strenuous day, and an augmented force of clerks has not been idle a second all day. It certainly is a banner day of a banner week for Fraley.

I am encouraged to show the public my appreciation for their good will. Commencing Tuesday morning, December 26th, I am going to put my stock of tailor made suits on the bargain counter and make a clean cut of the stock. This is bona fide and the stock is new and seasonable. A genuine reduction of from a quarter to a half will be made on every suit.

"The reputation of Fraley's is behind this statement and I believe that every lady in Reno will be interested in this sale. It is the first of a series which I propose to introduce and I expect to show the public that I appreciate the liberal patronage which has been accorded me and my firm."

"EAT DRINK AND BE MERRY" AT THE PALACE

Tomorrow will be Christmas day—the most joyous day of all the year—the day when cheer and good fellowship reign supreme over all the earth.

It is the day when all people sit around the festive board and unite in social companionship, as they eat and drink of the good things of life.

The Palace and the Arcade Cafes know this and have planned to make such fellowship possible for the people of Reno. A more elaborate menu for today's Sunday dinner and Christmas feast tomorrow has never before been offered in this social city. A change in the entres will be made for tomorrow. Come and bring your friends and partake of the bountiful repast which can be selected from the following:

NOT LIKE LAST CHRISTMAS

Father Tubman Expresses Regret That Celebration Will be in Strange Place

The Christmas season presents with all its cheer, something of sadness to the faithful who for many years have worshipped at the Catholic church and have celebrated annually the miraculous birth of the Christ child. This year they have no home and the sacred sacraments are unsurrounded by the evidences of sincere homage which the church of ancient days is wont to have.

Father Tubman has arranged to celebrate three masses Monday morning at the Eagles hall. The first mass will be sung at 8 o'clock and the last at 11:30.

"It is a sad condition," said Father Tubman last night, "that faces the Catholics of this community. Last year we had a home, a sacred place wherein to worship and praise. The Christmas anniversary is the crowning one of Christendom, it ushers in a truth which will keep the world young till the heavens are rolled together as a scroll. But we have no place to adequately express our thanks for the coming of the King of Kings, no home wherein the family of Catholics may gather. Last year the services rendered at the church were beautiful and impressive. They marked an epoch in the lives of many souls. This year while we have done all that is possible, to render adequate praise we are in a sense homeless and we are oppressed by that thought.

"But next year we have faith to believe that it will be different, and while the measure of the homage of man to his Maker is its sincerity, we strive to show in the nature of our adoration its depth."

Be joyful and happy all day and night tomorrow, Christmas, by joining your friends at the Oberon. Vocal and instrumental music at night. 12tf1

King of all Cough Medicines

Mr. E. G. Case a mail carrier of Canton Center, Conn., who has been in the U. S. Service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried many cough medicines for croup, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for coughs and colds, giving certain results and leaving no bad after effects." For sale by all druggists.

Partake of the Christmas cheer at the popular Oberon tomorrow. Join your friends there and hear the music by orchestra. d24t1

STOCKS, MINES and MARKETS

MINING MATTERS TOLD IN BRIEF

Matters of General Interest to Those Who Mine All Over the World

Ore which will run $80,000 in gold per ton has been found in the Funeral range.

There are twenty-two dredgers in operation near Oroville, California, and 256 men employed.

Tony Viera has located a valuable prospect in the Slate range and will prosecute development at once.

In the Denver mine, at Rhyolite, on the 200 foot level, the ore body is continuous and the total output of the mine to date is 1050 sacks of ore.

Some big strikes are reported in the Funeral and Panimint ranges and next season great activity is promised, one property has been bonded for $150,000.

The Gold Bar property at Bullfrog, in which such immense bodies of milling, as well as high grade values, have been opened up by extensive development work, is to be equipped with a complete new outfit of modern machinery, the consignment consisting of a 28 horse power gasoline hoist, head frame, rails, cars, skips, etc.

W. B. Gillingham and his son, J. E., have taken a contract for the sinking of nine shafts on the Bulls and Bears property and already a large force of men is at work and in a few days the number will be doubled. The property on which the work is being done lies just east of Columbia mountain and is considered among the best in that section of the district.

The U. S. now produces a large number of gemstones and semi-precious stones, among them being a few small diamonds, sapphires, tourmalines, beryls, chrysoprase, opal, turquoise, quartz (such as rock crystal, rose quartz, gold quartz and crystals rutile and chlorite, copper, etc.,) moss agate, petrified and agatized wood, garnets, amazon stone, and a few others of less importance.

The principal gold deposits of the world occurs in connection with the diabase, diorite, granite, andesite, clay slate and hornblende schist. The gold deposits of the Rand, in the Transvaal, S. A., occur in conglomerate. Gold is found in other rocks, but the above are the most noted. Copper ore occurs most abundantly in granite, greenstone and limestone, and lead-silver ores in limestone and quartzite.

The rare element gallium was discovered by a French chemist in a sample of zinc blende. The discovery was made by means of spectroscopic examination. It is a hard and tough metal of bluish white color, but melts at a very low temperature as compared with the other metals, 31 C. or about 87 degrees F., hence it will melt from the heat of the hands. It occurs most commonly in the black varieties of zinc blende.

Where the gouge occurs on one side of a vein for some distance and then crosses to the opposite side, this may be due to the fact that the walls have had a sort of axial movement in that vicinity, the wall on one side of the point of crossing moving upward, for instance, while the same wall on the opposite side of the crossing moved downward. Or possibly this condition may be due to a pre-existing fracture, or plane movement.

The mines of Olancho, Honduras, are mostly placer, as far as developed, though quartz veins, which contain gold are known to exist in a number of localities. The Department of Olancho is several hundred miles inland and there are only trails—no roads—from the seaports into the interior. There is abundant water for power and milling purposes when properly applied. The altitude in the gold region varies from 2500 feet in the valleys to 8,000 feet in the Guymaca range. There is abundance of fine timber but a scarcity of labor of any kind, and no skilled labor at all. There are extensive beds of conglomerate in Olancho, in the gold district, which may be auriferous.

Chas. Sprague, special representative of the Mining Investor, who has been in Bullfrog in the interest of his paper recently, has become so favorably impressed with the future possibilities of the camp, that he has purchased a one-half interest in the Lees lease on the Firelight claim of the Florence company. A shaft 50 feet deep has been sunk and considerable crosscutting has been done on this block, with the result that a good strong ledge carrying average values has been cut. It is the intention of the present owners to install a whim and sink the shaft down to the 100 foot level.

On the ground of the Smith-Scobold lease all is rustle, preparing to sink a shaft and have all in operation before another storm comes, says the Masonic Pioneer. Ground is being cleared preparatory to the sinking of a shaft on the lower ledge of the property and a crosscut will then be run westerly to tap the other ledges showing on the surface. Mr. Smith informed us that they intended to force the work along as quickly as possible and would add to their force as soon as circumstances would advise. Their ground is about 220 feet from the northern line of the Weittle Eastwood lease and runs for 150 feet on the ledge with a width of 300 feet. They are taking out at present some very fine looking ore, it is a first class milling rock. This is being put on the dump and will be milled in the spring.

The Montgomery-Shoshor owners are only waiting for a favorable decision in the grubstake case before putting into operation an extensive plan of development work already mapped out. Since the starting of the litigation the owners have been paying for the work out of their own pockets in order that the mine should not be shut down. The legal action was begun just as a large shipment of high grade ore was to be made, and since that time the ore houses have been filled with sacked ore, huge piles are on the dump and many tons are left sacked in the various levels. If Mr. Montgomery wins, the force of men will soon be doubled, stoping will begin, sinking resumed, shipments made and the erection of a mill begun. Mr. Montgomery has been at the mine this week and informs us that the Shoshone is looking as well as usual, as is also the Polaris, where they hope to put on a larger force of men soon. On the Del Monte claim, below the Polaris, the annual work has opened the big ledge cut in both the Shoshone and Polaris and fine pannings have been secured. As a mine the Shoshone ranks with the best in the country, and in the nature of its inammoth ore dep sits there is none other like it

SCOTTY AGAIN IN THE FIELD

And It Is Just About the Correct Hour for Something New and Startling From Him

On the night of Saturday, Dec. 2, "Mysterious" Walter Scott came into Salt Wells, in Death Valley, preceding his brother Bill Scott by about a mile. Scott was on his favorite riding jeannette. He said a fellow had followed him all the way from Barstow.

That same night Scott left Salt Wells, presumably for Wingate pass, about 15 miles distant, where he is thought to have a "cache"—that is, camp supplies and tools. "Mysterious" rode the Jeannette and carried a rifle and a night glass.

The brother, Bill Scott, took the burros on to Bennett wells, where the animals could get feed.

On the morning of the 7th the mule-horse that Scotty rode came into Bennett Wells without a rider. The saddle blankets were bloody and there was a bullet hole through the back part of the army saddle. The jeannette was bridleless and a strap was aroung the animal's neck.

Bill Scott at once started out to investigate. On the evening of the 9th, Saturday last, Bill returned and explained matters by saying that his brother had killed a mountain sheep and that the blanket was soiled with blood in packing the carcass; further, that the bullet hole in the back of the saddle was caused by the accidental discharge of Scotty's gun.

The sheep story was taken by those in camp at Bennett with a large size grain of allowance. C. D. Brown was one of the campers to whom Bill Scott told the sheep story. Mr. Brown came to Bullfrog Tuesday, and it was he who first gave out the facts about Scotty's latest escapade. He vouches for the story as far as the Miner prints it but he advances no theory as to the return of the riderless horse-mule, the blood on the blankets, the bullet hole in the saddle or the whereabouts of the "mystery"—whether Scotty "got his man," or whether the man got Scotty.

When Scotty left camp on the 2d he was still limping as the result of the auto accident met with a few weeks ago in Los Angeles.—Bullfrog Miner.

POLLARD STRIKE NEAR BULLFROG

Assays Have Been Had Going as High as $1,034.80 Per Ton in Gold

The Journal is in receipt of a letter from J. P. Smith of Bullfrog, who gives a very interesting history of the Pollard strike in that section. Joe Pollard is an old time Nevada miner and for the past 8 or 10 years he has lived in Cripple Creek, but several months ago returned to this state and within a short time found a valuable property, which he is developing.

Mr. Pollard has many friends over the state.

The Journal is very much pleased at receiving this communication from the new district as we make a special effort to give to the public the earliest possible information of new finds.

This find is located about 15 miles west of Bullfrog and close to the California line, and when the report became circulated a stampede started for the mines, and a number of those who have returned exhibit large chunks of ore literally covered with free gold. One assay returned values of $1034.80 per ton.

There are six claims and the vein has been exploited for a distance of 4500 feet the deepest hole is 15 feet wide. These claims are within a half a mile of the Happy Hooligan which is said to be one of the best properties in the state.

Pollard has returned to his find with a pack train load of supplies.

Mr. Pollard was a resident of Nevada 30 years ago and he is the miner who struck that enormous body of ore in the May Queen mine at Tuscarora, but he thinks he now has the biggest mine he ever saw.

RICH CLAIMS IN THE SOUTH

The Esmeralda-Tonopah Company are Exploiting the Big Shoots of High Grade Ore on Their Ground

John C. Spinney, a Tonopah mining operator, arrived in Reno yesterday and speaks very enthusiastically of the mining outlook in that rich district. He is vice president of the Esmeralda-Tonopah Mining company which corporation he was instrumental in getting together.

Results obtained from prospects and development work done on the company's group of 12 claims near Red mountain, has proven most gratifying to the management. On this ground a number of quartz ledges outcrop on the surface, the principal one being opened up in places for 4,500 feet. The strike of the ledge is east and west, with dip to the south of about 25 degrees from the perpendicular.

A shaft 75 feet in depth on the dip, proves it to be a contact fissure vein, with granite hanging and granite foot wall, which are both smooth and well defined. The vein filling is all highly mineralized quartz, iron sulphides predominating, with some copper. The gold and silver values so far range from $4 to $18 per ton, being about one-third gold and two-thirds silver but have gradually increased with depth.

The vein has gradually widened from two feet near the surface to five feet at the bottom of the shaft. The shaft at the present depth is in four feet of solid quartz and one foot of decomposed vein matter.

In addition to the above described property, the company is the owner of two other groups of claims and one single claim, aggregating 15 full and three fractional claims, well situated in the Tonopah Mining District. These properties are partially developed and are considered valuable.

MINING PATENT IS SET ASIDE

Montana Court Holds Patent to Placer Ground is Not Valid as Against Subsequent Quartz Location

A case was recently decided by a jury trial in a Butte, Montana, court where a locator of a quartz vein within a patented placer was declared to be within his rights, says the Mining and Scientific Press. The ground was located in 1880 as placer. This place was patented later, but in 1890 other parties entered the placer and located a lode claim on it. Defendant claims that the patent gave him exclusive right to the ground and that he had held undisputed and undisturbed possession of the claims for six years, and that the claim was good against all comers, and moved a non-suit. The court decided that such claim could only be allowed when the government contested the title. The defendant further claimed that there was not a sufficient showing of quartz on the claim in 1890 to justify working the property as a lode claim. This contention was overruled by the court. A patent to a placer claim is not prima facie evidence of the fact that no known lodes exist within the limits of the placer claim at date of application. The disposition of the department is to consider that if the lode actually did exist at the time of filing application for placer patent, such lode is reserved by operation of law, whether located or not. The law relative to lodes within placers is another phase of existing mining legislation that needs a change to remove from it that element of ambiguity and uncertainty.

ROCKLAND MINE SHOWING UP WELL

This Little Camp Rapidly Coming to the Front and a Large Plant to be at Once Installed

A correspondent sends us the following batch of news from the little Esmeralda camp:

While the recent snow storm had the effect of closing down the mill and cyanide plant, it did not in the least retard the operations of development work, and about twenty men are now employed in the mine.

The road between Rockland and Pine Grove has been open at all times but is now in good condition for either wagons or sleighs. The supply of "grub" and wood is abundant.

Since beginning operations last September the management of the property has erected a building 30 by 100 feet over the old cyanide plant and added six large new tanks to the plant, and also installed an agitator for the purpose of treating slimes. A number of improvements have been made to the mill, including a sampling machine. The mine has been developed to a point where it shows a proven shoot of ore on the lowest level—600 feet below the apex—over 400 feet long and ranging in width from 4 to 16 feet. The length and depth of this plendid body of ore is steadily being increased. The values are nearly all gold and range from $5 to $225 per ton. The ore bodies on all six of the levels in the mine are being developed and it is expected, in time, to reach the summit 1000 feet above the lower tunnel level, 670 feet of which is now proven to be good ground.

C. L. Baxter, who is interested in the Nevada-Rockland mine, took his departure for Los Angeles last week. After spending some time in Rockland, and Wednesday John F. Baxter, of Los Angeles, who is also interested in the mine on the property, arrived in camp accompanied by F. H. Nettleton, a mining man from Spokane, who will investigate the property. It now looks as though the bond would be taken up by the people holding it, and if they do it means the enlargement of the mill and cyanide plant to several times its present capacity in the very near future.

The Nevada-Rockland has a destiny little dreamed of by its best friends, or those most familiar with its conditions and history.—Yerington Times.

ELECTRIC POWER FOR RICH MINES

Bodie, Aurora and Masonic Are to be Supplied With Electric Power Plant at Once

Bodie, Aurora and Masonic can rejoice and give thanks that indications now point to the fact that they are soon to have cheap electrical power and light, in the not distant future. This week W. A. R. Loose, who is representing a number of Utah capitalists, made a trip to the Sweetwater to the interest of the company's water rights and reservoir site on East Walker river. While there he purchased the John Priddy ranch, the purchase price of which was $3,500 cash. He also bought the Williams' ranch for the sum of $2,500 cash. These ranches are to be used as a reservoir and building site for the electric power plant to be established at that place and for which Mr. Loose's company now holds valuable water rights. Mr. Loose informs us that the plant will cost $1,500,000, and that the company will supply power and light to the mines of Bodie, Masonic and Aurora. Work will begin early in the spring and rushed to completion. The plant is located on East Walker about seven miles from the Masonic district.—Bodie Miner.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is specially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock of Alice, Cape County, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and colds in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

SOMETHING is wrong on the Pacific Coast—no wrecks reported for a couple of weeks past.

TILLMAN and Roosevelt, pitchfork vs. big stick—and the pitchfork seems to have the best of it.

GEO. MEREDITH, the novelist, writes with a goose-quill. Many other novelists are satisfied with a goose-head.

AN exchange refers to Arthur McEwen as a brilliant journalist. Never judge a book by its binding; never judge a man by his nose.

JAMES HAZEN HYDE will take up his residence in Paris. When he gives another masquerade he will doubtless appear as the original "Paris green."

THE laborers who gather the tea for the use of the Emperor of China are compelled to bathe three times a day. There are no hoboes employed on the job.

SENATOR MONEY, of Mississippi, has been airing his views on the Panama canal. He did not have much to say, but he said enough to justify the saying that "Money talks."

KING EDWARD will attend the coronation of his daughter, Queen Maud of Norway. It will no doubt be a more pleasant function than his usual role—that of co-respondent in a divorce suit.

TAFT has settled the dispute about the Panama canal railroad monopoly by continuing the previous condition of affairs. Taft is a man of pacific disposition—of Southern Pacific disposition, in fact.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S book, "The Strenuous Life," has been reproduced in France under the title of "La Vie Intense." "Intense" is good; any old substitute would be a relief from that overworked word, "strenuous."

IT is hard to accuse our august Chief Magistrate of profanity, but it is not assuming too much to imagine that when he things of the Republican boss of New York these days his mind naturally reverts to a phrase that would rhyme very nicely with "Odell."

REFERRING to his proposed appointment of new overseers for Zion City, John Alexander Dowie says that it will be the most important act since the choosing of the twelve apostles. Dowie is suffering from rheumatism, but it is evident that there is nothing wrong with his gall.

THE Manchester Courier says that "all signs point to a reconstitution of the Unionist party more progressive than ever." The Unionists are the mugwumps of England, and it is a slander on the word to call them progressive in any sense of the term, unless the Courier refers to a progress backwards.

SIR W. H. PREESE has suggested that members of parliament before being permitted to legislate, should have to go through a course of instruction in scientific modes of thought. That's all very well for England; over here we would be satisfied if our members of congress would acquire a rudimentary knowledge of the English language

WITH the president and Hale, of Maine, it seems to be a case of "Hale and farewell."

McCURDY, of the Mutual Life, is failing rapidly. If he didn't fail, the company probably would.

THE dispatches state that Linevitch is in grave trouble. Next time they will likely leave out the "trouble."

A CLUB has been formed by the deaf women of Berlin. Most married men would like to belong to a similar organization.

HARRIMAN'S agent, Wallace, refuses to say anything for publication. He has learned a valuable lesson from the experience of his boss.

KING ALFONSO is as long about getting a bride as if he were a Chicago young men figuring out in advance the expensiveness of alimony.

THE troubles of Turkey in Europe are over, for the present at least, but turkey in America has yet to endure the exisgencies of the holiday season.

AND now Ryan wants to take Harriman's railroads away from him Harriman's dealings with Ryan may eventually teach him the folly of toying with a buzz saw.

CALIFORNIA wants the government to give her Goat Island. Then will come a demand for the cession of Mare Island, and the establishment of the nucleus of a geographical menagerie.

THE government of Honduras will celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the publication of "Don Quixote" by erecting a $100,000 theatre. That's Quixotic enough to satisfy even the shades of Cervantes.

THE Post accuses President Eliot of Harvard of being feeble-minded. That is an aspersion on the feeble-minded that should be resented by every one of them throughout the length and breadth of the land.

THE cat-o-nine-tails still continues to be a medium of persuasion at the Whittier reform school. The directors of that institution would not be injured by a little of the spirit of reform injected through that medium.

THE new motor boat, which can carry the user at a rate of from six to thirty miles an hour, is fastened to the foot, is about fifteen inches long and resembles a small automobile. Lengthened and widened a little, it will soon be introduced for use among the ladies of Chicago.

FIFTY-FIVE per cent of the men passed for enlistment in the British army are discharged within three months, chiefly on medical grounds, says Sandow's Magazine. That is a deplorably lamentable confession as to the physical fitness of the average Briton of the present day.

AMERICAN enterprise recognizes neither space, distance, nor locality. An American firm has obtained a concession to build an electric street railroad in Zanzibar, and it's odds that when we reach the other shores we will learn that Jay Gould has the contract for the construction of an asbestos clothing factory in Hades.
